- What are the benefits of using social media to develop awareness about personality disorder?
- What might some of the challenges be in using social media to talk about personality disorder?
- How can we work with these challenges?
- Is social media useful as a supportive network? Why?
- How can it be used to showcase research, good practice and build networks?
- Are there any good social media forums people know about to discuss personality disorder? For service users, carers, staff, the public?
- How can we reduce stigma of personality disorder by using social media?
- What do we need to be aware of when using social media?
